Boy Scout Group Rejects Merger

By a 25-14 vote, the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council executive board decided Thursday night against merging with the St. Louis council. The proposal had been under study since last spring.

The decision took place at a monthly dinner meeting, at the Flamingo. The action to reject merger was on a motion by Norman Johnson, an SIU-SW faculty member who had summarized the viewpoint of those favoring continuation of the 51-year-old council.

The Alton council also has voted against merging with St. Louis. A favorable board vote was recorded in Belleville but is being contested.

Proponents said they felt that merger would bring improved financing and administration. Opponents felt services to boys could best be provided through a council having the present boundaries—Bond County and the southern half of Madison County.

President Merrill Ottwein presided and the council adopted a 1972 employee salary program outlined by Vice-President Robert Simon.

On the recommendation of Camping Chairman Robert Bley, it was decided to open Camp Sunnen, Potosi, Mo., to those Alton area scouts wishing to attend.

Council Treasurer Allen L. Jesse reviewed the financial outlook.

A fabricating company for manufacture of joists and trusses for the building industry is planned at Washington, Mo. Known as Midwestern Joists, Inc., it has as its president A. Carl Weber, former Laclede Steel Co. engineering and research vice-president.

Laclede Steel formerly produced joists as part of its manufacturing at its Madison plant.

Milton Mill, former Hubbell Metals and Metal Services, Inc. president, will be sales vice-president. E. E. Rippstein, former Laclede Steel chief engineer, will be engineering vice-president.

Santa's cabin in Civic Park, Nidringhaus Avenue between Delmar and Edison Avenues, will be open from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

Hours will be noon to 8 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday, Christmas Eve.

Miss Betty Sheppard of Retail Store Employees Local 435 pointed out today that a free parking lot for 84 autos is in operation at 18th Street and Edison Avenue. Maintained by downtown merchants for the convenience of shoppers, the free lot has no meters of any kind.

She urged shopping in the Quad-Cities area, 1% goes to the city government and is an integral part of the city budget. Without the tax on industries in this area, our taxes would triple and over 500 people would not have employment.

Arthur H. Becker, former executive at the Madison plant of Laclede Steel Co., has been named manager of engineering maintenance and services at the Chemico Metals Corp. fabrication plant, Mitchell.

The Quad-City Mental Health Clinic board decided Thursday night to stop accepting new outpatients except in extreme emergencies. The action resulted from continuing monetary limits imposed by the Madison County 708 Board in what is viewed as an effort to force an end to operation of the clinic.

The Quad-City board postponed eliminating current programs and discharging further personnel after two 708 Board members, Allan Claus and Sylvester Bugger, said Thursday night they will seek a special meeting to reconsider providing more funds.

A psychologist and a social worker who resigned from the clinic this fall have been replaced due to the budget imbalance.

Mrs. Fanny Epstein, 262 Iowa St., fell and broke her right knee bone, being admitted Friday to Room 312 at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

David Rothenberg, 27, a Collinsville attorney, has been charged with the murder of William S. Wells, 41, Glen Carbon, an insurance company investigator whose body was found in the trunk of his car in East St. Louis Dec. 13. Rothenberg was arrested in Springfield at 8:15 a.m. yesterday and was brought to the Madison County Jail at 11:40 a.m. and was released on $100,000 property bond at 9:05 p.m. Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies said Rothenberg is the Wells family attorney and may be the executor of Wells' estate.

Capt. Demos Nicholas of the Madison County Sheriff's Department said Rothenberg was arrested on evidence his office had collected, including a tape recording found in Wells' MFA Insurance Co. office in Creve Coeur.

The recording allegedly links Wells' widow, Babette, 35, with Rothenberg romantically.

Mrs. Wells conferred with authorities at Springfield and Edwardsville before being released from protective custody yesterday.

Wells was last seen Dec. 10 at the Candelight Club, Glen Carbon, where he was smeared glasses later were found in the parking lot. Mrs. Wells reported that she had received a telephone call threatening his life that day.

Traffic Fatality

The body of a St. Louis man, fatally injured when his car left the highway and overturned, was found at 3 p.m. yesterday in a riverbed near Route 157 about one-quarter mile south of Route 162.

Charles Henry Gerber, 26, was found pinned under the windshield of his overturned convertible near University Heights Baptist Church and was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner Robert Thomas Jr. at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

He had been missing since Thursday and Thomas said the accident apparently had taken place about 9 p.m. Thursday as Mr. Gerber was driving from the home of his father-in-law in Collinsville to work. Mr. Gerber was manager of food services at the College of Pharmacy in St. Louis.

Witnesses said the convertible top of the car had been flattened in the accident and the car came to rest upside down, on its roof. A crane was needed to lift the car before his body could be removed.

St. Louis Resident

Mr. Gerber was born in Albert, Mo., and lived at 9788 Conquistador Walk, St. Louis.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eunice Simmons Gerber, one daughter, Miss Vicki Lynn, 20 months old, at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Larry (Charlotte) Beck of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. L. L. (Sharon) Shroff of Phoenix, Ariz.

His body was taken to a Collinsville funeral home where services will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday. Interment will be in Lakeside Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

Charges of excessively strict discipline at Madison Junior High School were aired by parents of black students at a meeting of the Madison Board of Education Thursday evening.

Mrs. Barbara Madison, a parent and a leader in recent court battles to force the board to upgrade Dunbar School and allow Dunbar seventh and eighth grade students to attend the junior high school, spoke for the Concerned Parents of West Madison group.

The discipline charges first were leveled by the Concerned Parents meeting Wednesday evening. Mrs. Madison relayed the charges to the board in the presence of Earl McClanahan, principal of the junior high school, in Thursday night's regular session.

Charges included the utilization of automatic three-day suspensions for fighting and prejudice in disciplinary action by both teachers and the administration.

Denies Charge

McClanahan denied that three-day suspensions for fighting are automatic at the school.

"I have to use judgment. If there is a serious situation, I feel it takes three days to cool down," McClanahan said. He said many fights have been halted at the school which do not result in suspensions if tempers are such that the fight is not likely to "flare up again later in the day," he said.

Mrs. Madison said the administration should rely more on parents for discipline and should call them for a conference rather than expel a child. McClanahan responded that parents are called in on many incidents but that in some cases suspensions are the only way to protect the other students and the teachers.

Chester McClanahan, board president, told Mrs. Madison, "These are administrative judgments and the board supports Mr. McClanahan 100% in his actions."

The parents' group also discussed several other problems, including the music program at Dunbar and equipment at the school, Mrs. Madison stated.

Grand Jury to Resume Investigation Tuesday

More chapters are being recorded in the Madison County Grand Jury's continuing investigation of activities in the village of Pontoon Beach and in Nameoki Township.

Hearing four witnesses Thursday afternoon, the jury told three others they would not be needed. Its next session is set for 10 a.m. tomorrow at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

Those questioned were Jack Patrick, Village Trustee; Louis Stancoff, Bob Johnson and Mrs. Shirley Gaudette.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell, Mrs.

Lillian Singer and Mrs. Pat Luchini appeared and were excused at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Gaudette is a secretary for the township. Mrs. Luchini is a township general assistance caseworker and Mrs. Singer is Democratic precinct committee-woman in Nameoki Precinct One.

Patrick is a brother of Edgar Patrick, Nameoki Township tax collector, who plans to appeal Whitsell for a position on the County Board of Supervisors.

Collector Patrick alleged last week that an illegal raffish, with a "bushel of booze" as the prize, was being conducted by the Truth and Action Party to raise funds to support Whitsell's county board candidacy.

Board posts are determined from the Madison area, while the township office under new court rulings and legislation.

The Grand Jury was believed to have associates with some lottery laws had been violated and whether the fund-raising activity had been in violation of the criminal duties of township officials.

This phase of the jury's explorations is viewed as stemming from an effort by some township residents to retaliate against the administration of Pontoon Beach Village President Thomas Stancoff, Stancoff and Collector Patrick are allied politically.

The earlier investigation with whether there has been favoritism in the way officials and officials carried out village administrative policies.

Supervisor Whitsell has voiced concern about practices in the village and has said repeatedly that he regards the investigation of Pontoon Beach as serious rather than the "politics" Stancoff and Collector Patrick have called it.

Noting that he was dismissed without testifying Thursday afternoon, Whitsell said, "In my estimation, the dismissal speaks for itself as far as the (raffish) allegations are concerned."

State's Attorney R. W. Griffith Jr. has not said what the jury is investigating but it has been acknowledged that it relates to Pontoon Beach.

Griffith has predicted that the probe will end "fairly soon" and there have been forecasts as to whether the jury will return indictments, and no confirmation as to who is being investigated.

Levee Board Ok's Permit

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees approved this morning a building permit for construction work in the Wilson Park Estates subdivision in Granite City. William "Mike" Ebersold, president, said engineering inspections indicated drainage provisions for the area are adequate.

Ebersold announced he has notified the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. that immediate steps should be taken to repair two riverfront tunnels that present a hazard to the riverfront levee.

2,437 Delinquent Tax Items Sold by County

A total of 2,437 items of property were on the block at Madison County's annual delinquent tax sale at the Court House at Edwardsville last week.

Nearly all were purchased by three professional buyers without competitive bidding and at maximum 12% interest rates. Delinquent taxpayers have two years to redeem their property. The major buyers were Interstate Bond Co. of Chicago, MT Investments of Edwardsville and Robert W. Luken of Alton.

The number of items was the lowest in some years and was lower than last year when 5,305 parcels were up for bid. The sale was completed in less than 2 1/2 days.

Data Processing to Streamline County Operations

Administration of Madison County government will be streamlined under a data processing system to be established during the next several years at the Court House at Edwardsville.

Final approval for the system was given last week by the Madison County Board of Supervisors which employed Robert Schriener of Edwardsville as data processing manager.

A salary of $14,000 a year was set for the position. Schriener has been serving as the county's data processing consultant. He was authorized to obtain bids for computer equipment. Cole-Yaver Trumble Co. of Dayton, Ohio, was employed to set up the processing system at a cost of $500,000 to be paid over a three-year period. Cost of the equipment was estimated at $45,000 in 1972, $30,000 in 1973 and $125,000 per year for the three following years.

Aerial Maps

Among services of the Cole-Layer firm will be aerial mapping of land tracts in the county with assignment of permanent parcel numbers and establishment of permanent property record cards and information to form the foundation for the Schriener's five-year plan calls for the financial system, judicial account, law enforcement systems, teacher certificates and citations to be computerized in 1972; real estate taxes, student scheduling and grade reporting, municipal utilities billing, voter registration case following and cross-indexing and docket preparations in 1973; jury selection, and traffic and judicial data in 1974 and other programs later.

According to Schriener, savings to the county through use of the system over manual means will accumulate to $1,075,000 by 1976.

Aerial mapping is expected to provide more accurate and less complicated real estate tax assessments on an equitable basis throughout the county.

Vote Machine Center

In another discussion, Marshall Smith, assistant state's attorney and the board's legal advisor, insisted that a referendum would be required to finance construction of a service and storage center for the county's 144 new voting machines.

He said he would "follow the letter of the law" and insist on a vote. The earliest such referendum would be November 1972.

His opinion was voiced after some board members were uncertain that a referendum would be required as $200,000 for the purpose already has been appropriated.

Dispute over the matter arose after the board dissolved the year-old Public Building Commission which could have issued bonds without a referendum. Smith had recommended retention of the commission, but its members were in conflict with the majority of the board over location and costs of the voting machine and other proposed public buildings.

Location Approved

Meanwhile a special use permit for construction of the voting machine building on county-owned Tuberculosis Sanatorium property on Route 159 was approved by the Edwardsville Plan Commission. The PBC had suggested a downtown location. The county also requested a permit for the building at the old nursing home property on S. Main Street in Edwardsville, but that site was refused to protect a residential character of that neighborhood. The Route 159 location is subject to approval by the County Jointing Board of Appeals following a public hearing.

Holiday Programs On Channel Nine

Daytime programming for the family will be a feature of Channel 9's programming schedule during the Christmas holidays, beginning this week, in a departure from tradition, the educational television station will remain on the air in the daytime, during the two-week period when area schools are in holiday recess.

Channel 9's regular daytime schedule is designed to fit the instructional programming needs of participating area schools in the station's School Services program. In the past, this has meant that the station suspended its daytime schedule during periods when school was not in session. Most recently, this occurred during Thanksgiving week.

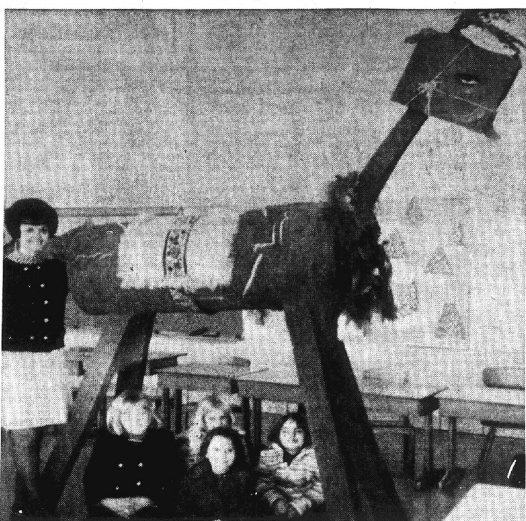

But for the two-week period beginning today and ending Friday, Dec. 31, viewer-sponsored Channel 9 will remain on the air from 9 a.m. each weekday.

Beginning the program offerings on a Monday through Friday basis is the ever-popular "Sesame Street" series, which is regular weekday time slot. At 10 a.m., the new reading series from The Children's Television Workshop, "The Electric Company," will continue at its regular time, followed by another children's favorite, "Mistertogs Neighborhood," at 10:30 a.m.

Channel 9 will follow its 9-11 a.m. two-hour block of children's programming this week with a repeat of the popular, locally-produced "Get Together" series, featuring Channel 9 television personalities. The "Get Together" series also will be presented next week, at 12 noon.

Also during the week of Dec. 27-31, the five segments of "Science 71: A Report to the Nation," a series produced at the National Academy for the Advancement of Science, will be aired at 1 p.m. The five-part series "Problems of the City" will follow each day at 1:30 p.m., and the four-part sex education telecourse, "Sons and Daughters" will occupy the 2 p.m. time slot.

A special feature this week

will be a series of Christmas specials; each day at noon, a different special will be presented.

On Christmas Eve, Friday, the daytime schedule will include three hours of holiday programs, including at noon, "An American Christmas: Words and Music," with Burt Lancaster, and at 1:30 p.m. "A Kukulapitan Christmas," with Kukla, Fran and Ollie.

Included in the daytime schedule during the two holiday weeks will be previews of upcoming adult education telecourses on the educational station.

"See to Solve," a telecourse on learning disabilities in children, will be previewed at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 28, and at 12:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 31.

"All About Welfare," a series concerned with American programs of public assistance, will be previewed Wednesday, Dec. 22, at 1 p.m., and immediately following, a preview will be aired of the public television series on drug abuse, "The Turned On Crisis."

Channel 9 is encouraging families or individuals watching the station for the first time during this holiday period to contact the station, requesting information about membership and regular evening programming. A complimentary copy of the monthly program guide may be received upon request by writing the station at: Channel 9, 696 Millbrook St., St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

County, State Candidate Filing Will End Today

Filing of nominating petitions for the March 21 party primary will end at 5 p.m. today at the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz in Edwardsville with a last-minute rush expected.

Candidates for state offices—whose filing period is the same as that for county and legislative offices—have filed petitions for most offices.

All of the candidates on the state Democratic state headed by Roman C. Pucinski of Chicago for U. S. Senator and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon of Troy for governor, filed nominating petitions with the secretary of state's office in Springfield shortly after the filing period opened Monday.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie also filed petitions for re-election as governor on the Republican ballot and Dan Walker of Chicago, who has pledged an innovative campaign against Simon, filed petitions in the gubernatorial race as a Democrat.

At the county level, no major races developed in last week's filings except a three-way race for the recorder of deed's post on the Democratic ballot. Two candidates have now filed for the two nominations to East Side Levee and Sanitary District trustee posts on the Democratic ballot, while only one has filed so far on the Republican side.

Committeemen File

While there was no apparent rush in filings for county posts on either the Democratic or Republican ballot, Miss Hotz's office reported that more than 300 persons have filed nominating petitions as candidates for precinct committee posts in the March 21 primary. Precinct committeemen are elected in the primary and are not subject to the general election in November.

Candidates who filed for nomination to county offices since opening of the filing period are: Recorder of Deeds: Democrat, Blair Watson, Edwardsville; Ronald P. Lucas, Maryville, and D. Dean Bridwell, Edwardsville; Republican, Ralph Astorian, 1716 Maple Ave., Granite City. Circuit Clerk: Democrat, Wilard V. Portell, incumbent, Godfrey; Republican, Lloyd G. Bentley, Wood River.

GC Man Rescues Father, Baby in Trailer Fire

A passerby who took the time to "become involved" may have been responsible for saving the lives of a Granite City man and a baby in a fire which leveled the man's mobile home last week.

George Brimm, 31, of 2314 Logan Ave., and his wife, Mrs. Arlene Brimm, were driving by the mobile home of Larry Chaffin, 2561 North St., when they saw smoke coming from the home. They returned and knocked on the door of a neighbor's house to report the fire. The neighbor said Mr. Chaffin was asleep in the unit, Brimm related.

Brimm found two boys, ages 4 and 5, Chaffin's children, playing in the yard and had his wife take them to the neighbor's home while he opened the door of the trailer and called for Mr. Chaffin.

"I yelled and yelled until he came out. He told me his 8-month-old baby girl was still inside," Brimm stated. Brimm entered the house to find the baby but was driven out by dense smoke and heat.

"I asked him where the baby was and then crawled in on the floor where the smoke was not so thick. It was just God's will that I found the baby's crib," he said.

Removed Belongings

Brimm ran outside with the baby and gave it to his wife who took it to the neighbor's home. He then stayed to help Mr. Chaffin remove as many belongings as they could from a tool shed before the fire reached it.

Firemen would not respond to the alarm because the mobile home was outside of city limits so Brimm attempted to keep the flames under control with a garden hose. The fire was demolished by the flames.

The Salvation Army helped Chaffin and his wife find a furnished mobile home at 2707 Denver Avenue, and the family moved in Friday. Chaffin is a diabetic and is unable to work. They receive food through public aid but more food and money is needed. The children also need clothes. Capt. Ron Kerley, commander of the local Salvation Army, related.

He said donations may be made at the family's new home or the Salvation Army will collect donations from residents who call 451-7857.

Dental School Delayed Again

The Southern Illinois School of Dental Medicine will delay acceptance of its first class until September in order to permit a review of the dental program after budgets for the 1972-73 fiscal year beginning July 1 are set. Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIU-SW, announced the admissions delay Friday.

The delay is recommended in a report from the American Dental Association's Council on Dental Education, following a visit to the SIU-SW campus. The Council has voted to continue the "accreditation eligible" standing granted the school earlier.

"We need to be assured that the budget granted by the State of Illinois will be strong enough to support a significant dental education program before admitting our first class," the president said. "It would be unwise to admit a class in July because of the uncertainties of the budget situation. Students would have to be notified of their acceptance prior to the time that the budget questions would probably be settled," Rendleman explained.

Recommend Firm Commitment

The Council on Dental Education report recommends "that the administration of the School of Dental Medicine seek and obtain a firm commitment as soon as possible giving evidence that the dental program will be allocated requesting funds in 1972-73 to operate the first year of a three-year dental program."

The sitting committee recognizes that the school will not be given assurances of specific budget amounts until the summer months but, in view of the unanswered questions, the committee believes clarification is required before the first class is accepted, the report said.

HOUSE PLANT STRATEGY

Cloudy days and heated rooms create an emergency for house plants.

During the summer your house plants need shaded locations to avoid sunburn. In the winter this same spot may be too dark for good growth.

For better growth you may need to move your plants to a different location. Progressively smaller leaves indicate your plants need more light.

High humidity is the other ingredient of better house plants. Burned edges of the leaves are a typical indication of low humidity and infrequent watering.

A group of plants will produce enough humidity to benefit each other.

A shallow pan filled with sand will produce a cloud of moisture and the best conditions for growth and flowers.

HOUSE PAINT ON TREES

White latex-based house paint has become a tool to control young fruit trees from cold injury during the winter and summer.

Cracking of the bark paint reflects radiant energy while unprotected trees absorb the intense cold, a few hours of sunshine can warm the trunk and destroy winter injury.

Ford Grants $100,000 For Housing Program

The Ford Foundation has approved a $100,000 grant to the Business Division of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern to implement an in-the-field, on-the-job housing management training program.

Dr. Marshall Burak, associate dean of the Business Division, and Dr. Harry Schroder, also on the faculty, have designed an eight-week housing management program to begin in February, 1972. It will be offered four times during the year. The training is designed to prepare personnel for positions in public and private housing management.

Participants will deal with real problems and responsibilities under the supervision of instructors selected for their skill, knowledge and demonstrated success in the several career areas within housing management.

A specially designed problem-solving clinic will be used by instructors to discuss field training experiences. This method will help the student understand what he has just studied by seeing it actually being performed, Burak explained.

A main goal of the course, Burak said, "is to show the students the variety of approaches which may be used by management in the field of housing to achieve beneficial social and economic results." Professors Burak and Schroder say that the training program has been designed primarily to support the United States Dept. of Housing and Urban Development objectives of increased tenant participation in the management of their own housing communities, fostering improved community, social, and service facilities for residents of assisted housing.

Children Wish for Teacher's Return

The fourth grade children at Mitchell School may not be disappointed this week as their wishes may well be granted.

The children have been writing letters to their teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Parker, Rural Route Two, who has been in Wood River Township Hospital two weeks, requesting her to "get well" so that she may attend their Christmas party at the school Wednesday.

Mrs. Parker reported this weekend that doctors have informed her she may be released in time for the party and in time to spend the holidays with her own children, Dennis, Denise, Diane, Stanley, Curtis, Glenn and Lynn.

Two Drivers Injured

Patrick Cordle, 31, of 3029 Mockingbird Lane, and Thomas Campbell, 31, of 2023 Sixth St., East Madison, were injured when their autos were in an accident at 5:30 p.m. Friday at 24th Street and Madison Avenue. Cordle was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pains to the right shoulder and back and a laceration to the head and was released.

HOUSING MANAGEMENT COURSE. Ted Britten, right, a representative of HUD, explains some of the problems that need to be solved in setting up a special course for persons interested in careers in housing management to Dr. Marshall Burak and Prof. Harry Schroder of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Business Division. SIU-SW has been given a $100,000 Ford Foundation grant to implement the program.

State Confirms That It Is Proceeding With Financing, Buying of Horseshoe Lake Park

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has confirmed previously announced U. S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) grants totaling $1,638,500 for acquisition of land at Horseshoe Lake in Madison County and Rock Cut State Park near Rockford.

The federal funds represent half the cost of the two projects, authorized under a federal-state cost sharing program available through the BOR. The state will pay the balance through the Illinois Building Authority.

Henry N. Barkhausen, state conservation director, said Friday that $802,500 will help finance the purchase of 1,395 acres of land and water at Horseshoe Lake as part of the conservation department's three-phase development of the site as a state park.

He said facilities for group and family camping, picnicking and fishing, plus sports fields and trails are planned for the property, which lies a mile southwest of Granite City along Illinois Route 111 and north of Interstate 70.

Phase one of the Horseshoe Lake plan calls for acquisition of most of the water area, all of the lake's eastern and northern shoreline and the peninsula which gives the lake its horseshoe shape. Costs for phase one are estimated at $1,385,000.

Phase two, which also includes some land acquisition, and phase three are expected to cost $1.2 million and $1.5 million, respectively.

However, since neither phase has received BOR approval yet, they could be modified substantially, Barkhausen said.

The largest of the two federal grants is earmarked for acquisition of 1,233 acres on the west side of Interstate 90 in Winnebago County.

Barkhausen said the new additions will be developed by the conservation department for camping, picnicking, field sports, hiking, a children's play area, winter sports and also for fishing if tentative plans for lake construction are adopted. The additions will more than double the park's present 1,127-acre area.

Toth-Kafka Wedding at St. Margaret Mary's

Miss Pamela Ann Kafka, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kafka, 1332 Rodgers Ave., and David Neil Toth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toth, 2016 E. 28th St., were united in marriage at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church on Dec. 11.

An afternoon double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock was performed by the Rev. R. T. Becker. White satin bows on the pews and a white aisle runner decorated the sanctuary.

Sister Marilyn Therese presided at the organ and played "Ave Maria," the Lord's Prayer and the traditional Wedding March.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory colored textured lace over champagne tulle. Designed with long full sleeves with wide cuffs extending to points over the hands, the gown featured a semi-Empire waist.

Narrow lace edging embellished with iridescent seed pearls accented the stand-up neckline, cuffs and waist. The floor length skirt was draped in softly gathered folds at the front and swept backwards into a bowed bustle effect ending in a slight train.

A shoulder length veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet headpiece of ivory lace covered with iridescent pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white feathered mums, stephanotis, rosebuds tipped in pink and baby breath entwined with ivy and long streamers.

Paula J. Wulf was honor attendant and Miss Priscilla A. Kafka and Miss Marlene A. Kafka, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

The honor attendant was in formal length gown of midnight green velvet with a champagne tucked chiffon bodice and long sleeves. The bridesmaids were attired in identically styled gowns fashioned in deep ruby red velvet.

Matching velvet bows on their hair secured nose tip veils and they carried a single pink-tipped mum centered in ivy and festooned with long pink streamers.

William C. Minor of Chicago was best man, Roger L. Santarato and James L. Kafka, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were George Moll of Chicago and Gerald Hefferty, formerly of Granite City now living in California.

Mrs. Kafka selected a mint green knit dress applied with clusters of beads and pearls and a matching coat and accessories. Her corsage was of white feathered mums tipped in pale blue.

Mrs. William C. Minor, Chicago, attended the guest book at an evening reception given at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

A rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party was hosted at the Playboy Club in St. Louis by the groom's parents.

Mr. Toth was graduated valedictorian at Granite City High School in 1963 and from the University of Illinois with a B.S. degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences in 1967. He is a member of the James Scholar program, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, Omega Beta Pi, Delta Phi Alpha and Phi Beta Kappa fraternities and the University of Illinois Alumni Association.

The bridegroom presently is attending the University of Chicago Pritzker School of Medicine from where he will graduate in 1972.

The couple plans to travel in Europe for six months while the groom continues his studies in Norway, England and Denmark. Mrs. and Mr. Toth will reside in Chicago after returning to the United States.

Gardenaires Hold Christmas Buffet

The Gardenaires Garden Club held its annual Christmas buffet at the home of Mrs. Al Malotki, 33 Oaklawn Drive.

The meal was served at a decorated holiday table featuring small pine cone Christmas trees which the hostess had made and presented as individual favors.

As a special gift, the club presented the library with a magazine file binder. This binder will be used to hold issues of the flower and garden magazine which the club gives to the library.

The ways and means committee reported all flower projects have been completed, and no more workshops for this project are scheduled until after the first of the year.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing games under the direction of the hostess. The winners were Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Charles Kohl.

Other members attending were Mrs. William Long of Edwardsville, Mrs. John Farrell of Fosterburg, Mrs. Abe Shannon, Mrs. Mary Kristian, Mrs. C. E. Eads and Mrs. Al Tarpo.

Driver Chased, Four St. Louisans Arrested

Four St. Louis youths were arrested in Venice at 2:20 a.m. Saturday after they allegedly chased two men in a car from Route 86 and Lindbergh Boulevard in St. Louis, across McKinley Bridge and onto Broadway while throwing beer cans and a baseball bat at the auto. Police were requested to stop a gold 1970 car which had just passed through the toll booth at the bridge in the wrong lane without paying the toll. They stopped the car in the 100 block of Broadway and the driver, Bill Wilson, 19, of St. Louis, said four men in the car behind him were trying to kill him. He said the pursuers had chased him at speeds in excess of 90 miles per hour through St. Louis and over the bridge.

A second squad car halted the trailing vehicle and arrested the four youths. A baseball bat, a tear gas gun and an open bottle of beer allegedly were found in the car.

Arrested were the driver, Bob J. Kolkey, 18, who was charged with disorderly conduct and illegal transportation of liquor; Timothy R. Bullock, 18, charged with aggravated assault, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct; Kevin M. Marshall, 17, disorderly conduct and curfew; and Lloyd C. Hall, 20, disorderly conduct.

Wilson told police the rear of his car was badly damaged by beer cans the youths allegedly threw during the chase. As he crossed the bridge he stopped behind three cars at the toll booth, he said, and when the youths left their auto one youth struck the passenger's door of Wilson's car with the baseball bat while another threw beer cans at the driver's door, Wilson reported.

The youths also tried to open the hood of the vehicle, Wilson said, at which time he turned into the westbound lanes and drove through the toll booth without paying the toll. Police were called and halted the car. "I was never to glad to see police cars in my life," Wilson stated.

State Political Action Program

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce has launched a bipartisan election-year political action program under the name IMPAC—Illinois Political Action Committee.

The new statewide effort will seek to:

1. Encourage and help women and qualified men and women who are understanding of and responsive to the business system, to run for public office.
2. Provide support to qualified incumbents seeking re-election.
3. Educate businessmen in the techniques of becoming involved in elective politics at the grassroots level.

The far-reaching plan, approved by the State Chamber's board of directors on the recommendation of its political responsibility committee, calls for immediate launching of both a short-range and long-range political action program "designed to protect the state's business climate and improve the growth of our economy."

Ralph I. Claassen of Peoria, State Chamber board chairman, indicated the project is a top priority goal in 1972 for the 20,000-member statewide business organization.

Claassen added, "The voting patterns during the current session of the Illinois General Assembly provide clear and indisputable proof that the balance of power in Illinois has swung over to the side of forces unsympathetic to the business viewpoint. Unless the trend is reversed, starting with the elections of 1972, the Illinois business climate and the growth of our state's economy will suffer irreparable harm."

Initially, the plan calls for these steps to be taken leading up to the 1972 elections:

1. An analysis will be made of all candidates running for the Illinois House and Senate. It will include incumbents seeking re-election as well as newly declared candidates.

2. A designation will be made of "opportunity districts" throughout the state where it is believed efforts should be concentrated to reverse the present alignment of legislators unsympathetic to business versus those who are receptive to its viewpoint.

3. Businessmen throughout the state will be encouraged to develop and lend support to qualified candidates who have merit regardless of their political affiliation.

4. The program will involve local committees in an IPAC directed educational program to train and equip business to become more effective in the political process.

5. Voting records of incumbent legislators seeking re-election are being tabulated on 10 major issues which faced the current legislative session in Springfield.

At the same time, the State Chamber's political responsibility committee will be developing long-range programs leading up to the elections of 1976 and beyond, Claassen added. The effort will include an improved system to enable businessmen to monitor and respond to the actions of legislators when in session.

Claassen issued an invitation to "other organizations, individuals and young people to be actively involved in the IPAC program and to join the Illinois business community in its search for sound, efficient and responsible government at the state level."

Motorist Charged

William F. Holmes, 2620 Grand Ave., was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after his car allegedly struck the parked car of Bobby J. Dugan, 2311 Illinois Ave., at 7:05 a.m. Sunday in front of Dugan's home. Police said Holmes drove from the scene and abandoned his damaged car at 25th Street and Logan Avenue.

Strikes Parked Car

The northbound car of Curtis R. Young, 2548 Benton St., swerving to avoid striking another car in the 1900 block of Benton at 6:55 p.m. Saturday, struck the parked car of Charles Chance, 1928 Benton, police reported.

Don McCrory, local Air Force recruiting officer, surveys a gaping hole in the back yard of his home at 1508 Cottage Ave. The chasm—nine feet long and six feet deep—appeared suddenly during a heavy rainfall. The mystery is what happened to the several hundred pounds of dirt and sod that disappeared into the ground.

16 Schools Entered in Holiday Mat Tourney

Sixteen high school wrestling teams are entered in the annual Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament to be held Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 29 and 30, at the school gym.

The first session will begin at noon Wednesday with first-round matches and the first six weight class matches of the second round.

The second session, with the remainder of the second round wrestling, will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The third and fourth rounds will take place in the third session at night on Thursday and the finals are set for 3 p.m. Thursday, concluding at about 6 p.m.

Schools entered with the local Warriors include defending champion East St. Louis Lincoln and runner-up Sterling. The Warriors finished in a tie for third with Peoria Richwoods, which also will return.

Others entered include Stephen Decatur, Alton, Belleville, Bloomington, Carbondale, Bethalto, East St. Louis, Jacksonville, Edwardsville, Riverview Gardens, Roxana and Wood River.

Competition again will be on a penalty point elimination basis with each competitor allowed 5½ points. A wrestler accumulating six points is eliminated. Wrestling will continue until there are three wrestlers remaining in each weight class. They will battle round-robin in the finals.

If a man is pinned, he is penalized four points. Should he lose on a decision by 10 or more points, 3½ points are assessed. If a wrestler loses by less than 10 points, three penalty points are assessed, and in a draw, each wrestler is given two penalty points.

A wrestler winning a bout by less than 10 points is assessed one penalty point, and if the bout is won by more than 10 points, one-half point is given. If a wrestler wins his match by a pin, no points are assessed against him.

All rounds except the championships will be determined by a random draw in each weight class.

Ripka Ties School Record, Warriors Win 2 Cage Tilts

Terry Ripka tied the Granite City High School basketball record with 47 points in a game with Wood River which the Warriors won 88-53 here Saturday.

It gave the Warriors a week-end sweep as they defeated Edwardsville 74-68 in Southwestern conference game on the road Friday night.

The school record was in 1968 by Gary Simpson who scored 47 points against Alton.

It was felt by Warrior Coach Coach Don Detering that the "Ripper" would have broken the record, but the officials called off the game with 1:15 minutes left to go due to Wood River's unsportsmanlike conduct.

Against Wood River, Ripka was 18 for 26 from the floor and hit 69% for both the Friday and Saturday games.

Going into the fourth quarter against the Wood River Oilers Ripka had only missed two buckets, and as the Warriors started feeding him even more.

With the hopes of breaking the record, he became tense and missed six in a row.

The Warriors held the lead against Wood River with quarter scores of 24-14, 48-31 and 69-45.

GCHS also led in field goals 36-22 and free throws 16-11.

Wood River out rebounded the Warriors 28-26, and committed 13 fouls to 11 for the Warriors.

The Warriors shot 58% from the floor and 76% from the charity line against Wood River.

Other Warriors scoring in the Wood River game were Rick Prehn 14, Joe Wallace and Chuck Krause 10 each, Tom Vrenick 5 and Bob Wiggins 2.

Take Command Late
In Friday's game, the Warriors waited until the fourth quarter to take command, outscoring Edwardsville 27-13.

The Tigers led 13-12, 37-28 and 52-47 earlier.

Warrior Rick Prehn collected nine points in the fourth quarter and put the Warriors in the lead 69-44 at the two-minute mark. Tom Vrenick made it 52-47 earlier.

Madison Ekes Out 65-64 Decision Over Gibault

Eking out a 65-64 decision over Waterloo Gibault, the Madison High School basketball team won its second game of the season in five outings here Saturday night.

The local Trojans held quarter-time leads of 14-12, 32-29 and 46-44. The winners outshot Gibault's Hawks 26 to 22 from the field, while the losers were sharper from the free-throw line by a 20 to 13 count.

Madison mastered the backboards by 43 to 30 rebounds.

Roger Glasper led the Trojans in the scoring column with 19 points while Terrance Young had 18, Chandler 16, Sam Byrd 8, and Emory Wilson and Lyle Boyd 2 each.

"You can't say too much when you win, but I was disappointed in our defense against Gibault," Coach Larry Graham said.

"I was real pleased with the job Glasper did, both in scoring and in play on the court. We are improving, little by little, and the team seems to want to win. We still need experience and a lot hard work, but the team is taking shape."

Madison will have a long rest, hosting Granite City's Warriors on Jan. 4.

SCOUT TROOP 96 HIKES THE PIASA BIRD TRAIL

Boy Scouts Troop 96 of Maryville School spent six hours on the 16-mile "Piasa Bird Trail." The market trail follows the McAdams Highway (Great River Road) from Alton to Godfrey.

However, the trail is laid out on the bluffs high above the roadway and is one of the more advanced trails in this area.

Sighting of the famed "Piasa Bird" is a highlight of the trip. The bird is also featured on the patch awarded for successfully completing the trail.

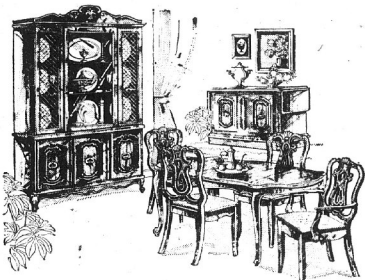

Tour leader for Troop 96 is Robert Yount, who was assisted during the day by Frank Aldridge, Richard Bywater and Chris Kleier. The scouts made the hike on the last day of the 1971 season; the trail had closed down until spring. The trail took the boys Stafford and the troop meets at Maryville School each Tuesday at 7 p.m.

The troop has tentatively planned a two-day hike, ending at the Johnson Shut-Ins in Missouri, as one of the spring activities. Cubmaster is Newman Wood, Richy Brown, Leslie Whitterton, Tom Sawyer, Jim Shentwell, David Miskell, David Mack, Frank Aldridge, Jody Maxfield, Randy Brown, Buddy Kieffer, John Azeria, Mike Yencho and Bibb Bywater.

Boys receiving patches for the hike were Bob Yount, Tim Whitterton, Danny Hearn, James Hearn, David Wood, Bobby

In Memoriam

In loving memory of EVA NIKONOVICH who passed away December 19, 1970. One year has passed since that sad day when one we loved was called away. God took her home—it was His will. Within our hearts she lives still.

Sadly missed by:
THE EMIL NIKONOVICH FAMILY, 33-12-20

In loving memory of ALVIN DORRIS, December 19, 1968. Though it has been 6 years since he went away. In my heart forever he will stay.

Sadly missed by:
WIFE, EDNA, 33-12-20

In memory of DAVID L. GANT who passed away on day December 16, 1970. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest. Those who think of you today Are the ones who loved you best. What would we give to see you smile.

To sit with us and talk awhile The blow was sudden, the shock was severe. To part with one we loved so dear.

We often think and think of you Things you used to say and do We wonder why you had to die With out a chance to say Good-bye.

To your grave we often wander Flowers we place with tender care And we feel your presence near us.

As we sadly linger there
MOM, DAD, BROTHERS, AND SISTER, 33-12-20

ENTERTAINMENT SIMPLIFIED

Can your holiday entertaining be so simple that you can mingle with your guests. Spending all your time in the kitchen takes away the pleasure of community.

Holiday entertaining need not be a time-consuming and burdensome chore. For instance, if Christmas involves a large group of relatives, consider a pot luck dinner or a cooperative meal.

It's impractical to expect one person to plan and prepare the whole meal.

A time-saving "help yourself" buffet service allows the hostess more time to enjoy her guests.

When planning a menu for a buffet, remember that foods must look pretty on the table and withstand waiting, if necessary. Here are some hints on buffet service.

Keep the service as simple as possible. Avoid foods that are difficult to serve, such as "soups" on the plate, or foods that require extra silver, such as bread and butter.

To insure keeping hot foods hot, use heavy casseroles or chafing dishes for serving.

Attractive garnishes add a note of festivity. Food should look good to eat.

Remember that the success of a company meal depends on the hospitality that prevails more than on the number of dishes or the type of menu of preparation or service.

FABRIC SOFTENERS CUT DOWN ON "STATIC"

You can take the "cling" out of your winter wardrobe by treating undergarments with fabric softeners.

The addition of fabric softener to the last rinse will reduce the static electricity that makes clothes cling to your body.

Fabric softeners also help make clothes softer and more wrinkle free.

Be sure there's no soap or detergent left in your clothes when you use the fabric softener or it will not work satisfactorily. Manufacturers' recommendations for fabric softeners are added to the last rinse.

Some washers have an automatic dispensing device that will add the fabric softener at the right time. But be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions on how much softener to use in different types of washers.

Use a lesser amount of the fabric softener when you're rinsing out a few things in the lavatory.

Fabric softener may decrease absorbency if overused. If items such as towels or diapers become non-absorbent, use less softener than usual or launder a few times without adding fabric softener.

If undiluted fabric softeners are poured onto the laundry, grey or blue oil-like stains may appear on the clothing. These stains can be removed by re-laundering the garment.

Private Firms Teaching Reading and Arithmetic

By KENNETH J. RABBen

Copsey News Service

A year ago, 27,000 public school pupils nationwide, most 18 months or more behind in reading and arithmetic than regular school children, were helped by private enterprise for help.

They were part of the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity's $6.5 million experiment in reading and arithmetic remedial tests showed little pupil improvement in 18 school systems awarded contracts with six firms. The one-year experiment was in all types of communities, including Hartford, Conn.; the Bronx; Philadelphia; Jacksonville, Fla.; Dallas and Seattle.

Nearly a million dollars is being spent to test pupils in experimental programs that include a substantial number of minority group youngsters and compare their growth with an equal number of children receiving conventional training.

When the analysis is released, the public may learn whether performance contracts provide an effective alternative to traditional schooling. It could bring about a major structural change in education.

Under a performance contract, a private, profit-making firm, or a teacher organization, as in Mesa, Ariz., and Stockton, Calif., accepts payment based on improving each pupil's ability in the subject taught. OEO contracts provided for a one-year improvement in reading and arithmetic.

Under the provisions for absenteeism, but payments were made.

Philadelphia provides a contrast in performance contract approaches. One program, conducted by Behavioral Research Laboratories, tried to help nearly 15,000 pupils, mostly black and reading 18 months or more below national standards. Philadelphia teachers were trained to use BRL's instructional methods and materials. Instructors would continue using what worked best when the contract ended. This was a "contracted" operation.

Used Own Methods

Westinghouse Learning Corp., which is the project's contractor, with a smaller but similarly disadvantaged group. The firm used its own instructional methods and materials.

Sixty-five per cent of the BRL pupils failed to meet the contracted one-year reading growth. Superintendent Mark Shedd agreed with BRL officials who claimed the program had been plagued by high absenteeism and a late start. They believe the program should continue.

Results of the OEO-financed project have not been disclosed, but a Philadelphia school official said Westinghouse's record closely parallels BRL's. The official believes the turn-key project is the better approach and that performance contracts can help pupils achieve at a much more rapid rate than conventional methods.

Under the voucher system, parents send their children to a school of their choice, public or private (including parochial) and are reimbursed for each child's education. Such a system is helping Pennsylvania parents finance their children's parochial schooling and it may be what President Nixon meant when he promised to help parents sending their children to private schools.

Performance contracts have generated intense controversy and stiff opposition. The OEO is about to open the floodgates to greater discord by inviting school systems to take part in an experimental test of cash vouchers.

Curry-Mann Nuptials In Terre Haute, Ind.

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Judith Ann Mann, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Mann, 2103 Dahlien Ave., Terre Haute, Ind., and Lawrence James Curry, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan T. Curry, 4740 Nameoki Road, on Saturday afternoon at the Memorial United Methodist Church in Terre Haute.

The Rev. Willard J. Doyle performed the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock.

The church sanctuary was decorated with holly and mistletoe and three decorated Christmas trees were situated near the altar. Pews and other areas of the church were complemented for the Christmas season with floral arrangements and holiday ornaments.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of antique white satin beautifully styled, with a high ruffled neckline, Empire waist and long bishop sleeves cuffed with ruffles. The bodice was fashioned of beaded Peau d'Ange lace with the lace-work repeated on the hem of the A-line skirt.

A lace headpiece etched with tiny seed pearls held in place the chapel length mantilla veil. Applied with vertical patterns of matching lace, the veil formed a sweep train.

The attendants, Miss Debby J. Roberts, maid of honor, Miss Katherine Pell, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaid and Miss Janice Sue Mann, the bride's sister, junior bridesmaid, were gowned alike in wine colored velvet dresses fashioned with long sleeves and Empire waists. White Venice lace inserted with velvet ribbon edged the necklines and encircled the waist.

White velvet bandeaus trimmed in white fur, secured nose tip veils of matching illusion and they carried white fur muffs.

Little Karen Meyer, a niece of the groom, was flower girl and appeared in a frock similar to the attendants. Billy Curry, the groom's nephew, was the ringbearer.

Vincent Debevec served as best man with Harry Jones, John Mann, the bride's brother, William Curry, a brother of the groom and Norman Meyer, brother-in-law of the groom, as groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Mann chose for her daughter's wedding a street length dress in blue polyester knit and the groom's mother, Mrs. Curry chose a mint green silk shantung ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry entertained the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at Cunningham's restaurant in Terre Haute.

A reception for wedding guests was given immediately following the ceremony at the church fellowship hall.

The former Miss Mann is a graduate of Wiley High School in Terre Haute. She has been employed as a secretary at General Motors Acceptance Corp.

The groom is juvenile probation officer for Madison County. He is a graduate of Granite City High School.

The couple will make their home at 2022 Madison Ave., after a wedding trip.

During fishing season,
hundreds of families
enjoy this new
2,000 acre lake.

Bass, crappie and bluegill are big and plentiful.

You're invited to enjoy one of our State's fine new recreation areas

Lake Baldwin in southwestern Illinois has been called by conservationists "one of the finest semi-wild recreation areas in our state."

Illinois Power created this 2,000 acre lake to provide cooling water for the giant Baldwin power plant. Recognizing the potential of the area as a major wildlife preserve and recreation area, the company turned the lake over to the Illinois Department of Conservation to be managed as a free public recreation area.

Lake Baldwin is open every day except Monday. If a holiday falls on a Monday, the lake is open, and closes on Tuesday that week. During the duck hunting season the lake is closed to provide a safe refuge for the thousands of waterfowl that flock to the area.

Come to Lake Baldwin and enjoy good fishing in the water that helps us provide the electricity you'll use to fry your catch when you get home.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

It has been noted that Jesus Christ was born of simple parents in an obscure village, never attended a college, worked as a carpenter's helper and was an itinerant preacher for a mere three years. Yet his influence on the world is greater than that of all the rulers and armies of history combined. Such is the power of the Spirit. Let each of us rededicate ourselves this Christ's birthday to his message of love and to things of the Spirit.

Merry Christmas

Shopping Season Calls for Caution Against Thieves

The Christmas shopping season can be a joyous one for thieves, pickpockets, purse snatchers and car looters, the Insurance Information Institute is reminding Quad-Cityans.

Mindful that Americans buy millions of dollars in gifts each Christmas season, thieves are out in full force at many shopping centers and parking areas.

Pickpockets and purse snatchers try to get cash before it is converted into gifts. If they get credit cards, they'll be sold to professional credit card rings that put them to use quickly before the loss can be reported.

Car looters go for gifts after shoppers put them in their cars and go back to buy more before they head for home.

Stolen merchandise is fenced or peddled for whatever cash can be raised.

The Institute warned shoppers that the chance of police recovering miscellaneous stolen merchandise is pretty slim. They should get receipts for all purchases and report theft losses to police and their insurance agents.

Some auto policies cover loss of personal effects from locked automobiles; others may not. Similarly, some home-owners policies may insure loss of such property.

Naturally, purse snatching is a crime and should be reported to the police and to the insurance agent.

If your pocket is picked and you have evidence of the crime, like a slashed pocket, the police should hear about that, too," the institute said.

This advice is offered:

1. Don't carry large sums of cash.
2. Keep wallets in pockets that are not readily accessible to pickpockets.
3. Women's handbags should have sturdy straps which can be worn on the shoulder or wrapped around the wrist or hand and firmly gripped. However, if you are alone in the street or fear possible bodily injury, let go of the purse or handbag.
4. Only essential credit cards should be carried by men and women. Don't carry all that you have.
5. Don't put packages in cars if the store will deliver them for you. If you must store them in your car, put them in the trunk and be sure it and all doors are locked.
6. Do NOT have car and house keys on one ring. If you lose them, you won't get in anywhere.

The institute commented that "a few precautions before Christmas will help insure a merry one."

Alcoholism a Matter of Human Values, Dollars and Cents to Employers

(Second of a 4-part series)
By L. T. FRUIN, M.D.

Illinois State Medical Society
Alcoholic rehabilitation programs established by Illinois businesses pay big dividends both in human values and in dollars and cents business practice.

Recognizing this are many of the nation's leading business names in this state — firms such as Illinois Bell, Caterpillar Tractor, Allis Chalmers, Union Carbide and DuPont. These are just a few of the many Illinois firms which have developed programs to help employees with drinking problems.

Testifying to the worth of these programs, one rehabilitated alcoholic, a graduate of the Illinois Bell program, said:

"It's such a pleasure to go home and have my daughters crawl into my lap and make me feel like a father again."

"My on-the-job efficiency has developed so much. I won a long-delayed promotion. If it hadn't been for my company's interest and understanding—" combined with the threat of losing my job—I wouldn't be working today. Nor would I still have my family."

It is understandable why Illinois businesses are concerned about the problems of alcoholics.

Of the half-million plus alcoholics in Illinois, 70% are still on the job. Untreated alcoholics cost their firms millions of dollars each year.

Costs are hidden—but absenteeism, accidents, inefficiency, lowered morale and idle machines all contribute to the million dollar hangover.

In Chicago alone, alcoholism costs business an estimated $100 million. Losses in business elsewhere in the state may be twice that. On the national scene, alcoholism costs industry about $2 billion annually.

Each untreated alcoholic costs his employer more than $1,000 per year. Yet this amount is small compared to the investment the employer has in the skills and knowledge of experienced workers. That's why Illinois firms have wisely developed programs to help alcoholics.

Illinois Bell was a pioneer in this field. Its program, which began in 1951, has, from the very beginning, emphasized that helping an employee with a drinking problem is everyone's responsibility — everyone's top levels of company management on down.

The first step was convincing everyone that "reporting" an employee with a drinking problem could lead to rehabilitation — not automatic termination.

This is important, for early identification makes it easier to treat the alcoholic patient.

The longer an alcoholic's problem is ignored, the more difficult is the treatment.

Before referring a Bell employee to the rehabilitation program, his supervisor frankly discusses the problem.

The supervisor makes it clear to the employee that his former tolerance of no longer be tolerated and that some effort must be made to change behavior and work patterns.

That's when the alcoholic is urged to join the rehabilitation program. Even if he declines, the company doesn't fire him. But he must make a real effort on his own to change.

If the attempt fails, the employee must join the program or be fired.

Holding a job like a big stick over the employee's head sounds cold and calculating. But such a threat produces a crisis in the victim's life and often provides the motivation he needs to be successfully rehabilitated.

Testimony from Bell employees who have been rehabilitated backs up this idea.

"I drank for 20 years, coming myself into thinking alcohol couldn't hurt me," one employee admits.

"I had blackouts and I'd forget what happened the night before, the last weekend or whole weeks at a time. Finally, I ruined my marriage completely — but it wasn't the booze, I kept telling myself."

"My tolerance went. It took less and less to get me smashed. My drinking for the first time began affecting my work. I'd count the hours till quitting time when I could hit the saloon."

"When my supervisor told me my job was on the line, it was like a slap in the face. I had to keep my job in order to pay my bills. So I agreed to attend the company's program. It was only later that I realized I had a problem."

Such stories aren't rare. Since the beginning of the company's program, hundreds of alcoholic victims have been helped. The results were carefully tabulated on a test group of 462 of the most serious cases.

Most of these employees were between the ages of 35 to 54 years.

These are generally the most productive years of an individual's life — years most persons progress in their careers. But alcoholism was interfering with this progress.

For most of these employees, the answer was the Bell rehabilitation program. About 57% — 230 employees — are "rehabilitated," or have completely controlled their alcoholism for one year or more.

Another 15% are "improved" — able to function satisfactorily on the job although their drinking isn't completely controlled.

Five percent of the employees remained uncooperative and rehabilitation efforts thus failed. The remainder, 23%, are still in the program.

A measure of the program's success is the sickness disability records of the group. Uncontrolled alcoholics average two to three times more absenteeism than other employees.

The Illinois Bell test group had 682 cases of sickness disability absence in the five years before participating in the company's program.

During the subsequent five years before participating in the program, the same employees had only 356 cases — a 50% improvement.

Another indication of the program's success is the accident rate among test group individuals.

In the five years prior to joining the program, the test group had 75 off-duty and 57 on-duty accidents. These figures were reduced to 28 and 11, respectively, in the five years during participation in the program.

These findings dramatically show that alcoholic control programs can increase on-the-job efficiency. But the success of the program can best be summed up in the words of another "graduate."

"It isn't easy trying to remain sober. It's work; it's hard work. I needed help. Medical help. I received it."

"I'm staying sober now . . . it's the biggest job I've ever done. It's worth it . . . to stay sober . . . to have control over my own body . . . my self-respect."

Seek Funds for India, Pakistan SIU Students

Several hundred letters soliciting contributions to the India-Pakistan Emergency Fund at Southern Illinois University are being mailed to residents of this area by the SIU Foundation.

The emergency fund has been established to aid SIU students from India and Pakistan whose normal sources of support have been cut off by the war. The University has deferred tuition payments for these students and will delay collection of rent from those living on campus.

A substantial number of these students have no means of financial support except from their families. Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIU, said in the solicitation letter: "Since the needs of these students go far beyond the resources of the university we are asking for your help," the president wrote.

Contributions to the emergency fund should be made payable to the Southern Illinois University Foundation and marked India-Pakistan Emergency Fund. Gifts are tax deductible.

Science Students at Prather Tour Gardens

Bruce Ullman's science class, totaling 82 students, took field trips to Shaw's Gardens last week. They toured the Climatron, a display of Christmas plants, the Potting House where several students purchased plants, Henry Shaw's home and his mausoleum and the Gift Shop.

Three mothers helped supervise the trip. The mothers were Mrs. Joyce Davis, Mrs. Loretta Landford, and Mrs. Bessie Morgan.

Gilbert Walsley, principal of Prather, received a call the following day from the management of Shaw's Gardens, congratulating him on the fine behavior of the Prather students. He said it was one of the best behaved school groups ever to visit the Gardens.

Steps Outlined To Prevent Yule Tree Tragedies

In an ancient Sicilian legend all living creatures journeyed to the stable where Christ was born to pay homage to the newborn king—even the trees.

The olive trees gave their fruit and the palm gave its dates. But the little fir tree had no gift to offer and stood humbly in the rear.

An angel noted its plight and asked the stars to descend and rest in the limbs of the tree. And the child smiled and blessed the tree. To this day, the tree remains ever green all year long.

Today's Christmas trees may not be lit by the stars, but a wide variety of decorations is available to make every tree unique.

The National Safety Council warns that, although beautiful, the traditional Christmas tree can bring tragedy instead of cheer unless proper precautions are taken.

To see that your tree doesn't become a fire hazard the Council recommends:

Purchase a tree that is fresh. The needles should be resilient and adhere to the branches when handled.

If the tree is to be stored before it is decorated, place it outdoors in a container of water.

Before setting the tree up, cut off about an inch of the trunk to help the tree absorb water. Check the water level daily to be sure the tree has enough moisture.

Locate the tree away from fireplaces, vents and other sources of heat and where it won't block exits.

Check strings of electric lights closely for worn insulation, broken plugs and loose bulb sockets and use only sets with UL (Underwriters Laboratories) labels.

Never use lighted candles on a tree or any evergreen decoration.

Decorate the tree from the top down, using non-flammable ornaments.

Hang breakable ornaments high out of the reach of children.

"Icicles" should not be hung near bulbs, sockets or metal parts of the wiring.

Don't overload any one circuit with electrical decorations. Keep extension cords short and out of the way of traffic to prevent tripping.

Angel hair usually made of glass wool won't burn. Neither will spray-on flocking snow. But snow sprayed on angel hair makes a combustible combination. Put the snow on the hair. Make sure the adhesive used on commercially-flocked trees is non-combustible.

A dampened paper towel will help to safely pick up slivers from the floor if a glass ornament breaks.

Go over your home fire emergency escape route with your family, just in case. And then, following these rules, relax and have a merry Christmas.

Melvin Wilmseyer, president, made the initial presentations of the award to qualified employees during the bank employees annual Christmas dinner party, at the Sunset Hills Country Club, last week.

(Copley News Service)
SPRINGFIELD — Because of increased illegal "market hunting" for deer in Illinois, the law enforcement division of the State Department of Conservation has stepped up night patrols and game check activities.

During the first three-day season, in November, 10 persons were arrested and convicted in two counties for hunting violations.

In all, during November, there were 1,250 arrests for varying game violations, according to Bill Miller, head of the law enforcement division.

Miller said more than 10,000 deer were taken in the state during two three-day hunting seasons.

The size of the deer kill, Miller said, points up the success of proper herd management, since deer hunting was only begun in the state in 1957, when 2,000 deer were taken.

Unofficial and incomplete totals indicate better than 7,900 deer were taken in the first season this fall, and approximately 2,300 more were bagged during the second three-day period.

Nearly all are taken by hunters with shotguns, though bow hunting is permitted in the state. While 12,000 bow hunting permits were issued, only a little over 500 deer kills were recorded for bow hunters.

Violations Detected

Routine game checks, conducted in cooperation with state police and state biologists, have turned up 18 violations in a six-hour period near Paxton, Miller said. In another spot check, near Chicago, 12 violations were found, seven of them in one car where inspectors found seven hen pheasants.

Possession of each hen constitutes a separate offense, Miller said, and seven tickets were issued, each carrying from $25 to $300 in fines.

In one recent check of about 800 hunters, law enforcement officials tallied 240 pheasants, 24 quail, 150 rabbits, two woodcocks, 31 deer, one hawk, nine doves, one squirrel and several Canadian geese.

One hunter was charged for being over the limit on rabbits, and charges also were levied for possession of the hawk, the doves and the squirrel.

"We don't make the laws—we just enforce them," Miller said, adding that "the duties of the law enforcement officer are better understood now, when people can see proof of the program in our successes in establishing one of the world's largest geese flocks—and with the return of a wild turkey season to Illinois, where they hadn't been hunted since 1903, as well as the steady buildup of the deer herds."

Illinois has one of the shortest deer seasons of any state in the nation, Miller said, with hunting limited to Illinois residents, who may use only shotguns with slugs, or bow and arrow.

GC HS Future Secretaries Salvation Army Sets Entertained at Yule Party

More than 50 members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association met at the high school last week for their December meeting, which was called to order by President Karen Romine. Members were reminded that all money for candles are due by tomorrow.

The FSA Chapter Charter was passed to senior members present for their signature. Recording Secretary Janet Lambert read the minutes of the November meeting.

Special thanks were extended to the chairman of the Handbook Committee, Sheryl Thich, and her committee, for completing and distributing handbooks to the members. Any FSA member who has not received a copy of the handbook should contact the faculty advisor, Mrs. Judi Sparks.

It was noted that roll call would be taken for the last time at this meeting, and at all future meetings the members will check in at the door, at that time advising if they had won their FSA pin that day. This will enable the chairman of the FSA contest to more accurately keep track of earned points.

The subject for the meeting Jan. 4 will be "Eight Hours in a Secretary's Life," and gives an insight into the secretarial duties of different firms and varied duties the secretary will be expected to perform on the job.

There will be a speaker and a panel of secretaries from the local community. It is planned that secretaries be chosen from the educational, legal, industrial, and other diverse fields in order to give the members a thorough understanding of the differences in secretarial jobs.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the Christmas Party Committee Chairman Gloria Konkkel, and her committee, Pam Cooper, Pat Gould, Barbara Hughes, Chris Schiller, and Jean Todd.

'Keep Your Cool' to Foil Assailants, Coeds Told

By PETE BROWN
Southern Illinois University News Service

Let's say you're a woman faced with a threatening approach or assault by a man. What do you do?

Scream your head off? Whip out the pocket-size tear gas gun? Zap him with your best karate chop? Fight him tooth and nail.

Answer, according to a man who claims to have researched the subject as no one else, is none of the above.

Says Frederick Storaska: "Go along with him until you can safely react. The best thing you can do is understand what's happening, and be ready to try alternative behavior if the first thing doesn't work."

Storaska, who makes a living lecturing to college students on how to prevent or survive criminal assaults, lined out his "program" to an SIU Convocation audience at Carbondale. He told them more than 270 coeds at other campuses have testified that his techniques saved them in assault situations.

Screams Don't Work

Contrary to some often-heard police advice, screaming in the immediate assault situation is a definite nono, Storaska says. "A scream works less than half the time," he says.

Also out is struggling or using weapons. "It's ludicrous for a woman to struggle if she thinks she's going to be raped. Two things are likely to happen. She can be mutilated and the assailant will probably be pleased," Storaska advocates going limp or pretending to faint. "He may think the woman is seriously hurt or dead, and take off."

Tear gas miniatures he dismisses out of hand. "Where will it be? In her purse, and that's the first thing she'll drop if she's attacked. Then again, it's only good if the wind happens to be blowing right."

If she shows a weapon, Storaska says, "the irrevocable result is violence."

He advocates only two physically punitive techniques for the woman victim: put out the assailant's eyes (figuratively) or bruise his groin. Both should be employed only after some attempt at satiating the assailant—sudden physical reactions are likely to be bad news.

Essential Behavior
Storaska, an unlikely combination of college psychology graduate (North Carolina State) and black belt, third degree karate, brown belt judo expert (Air Force Academy Prep), lists five essential behaviors for women in trouble, or hoping to stay out of it.

1. Keep your cool.

2. Be constantly aware of your environment—who you're with, how you're dressed, what "vibrations" you're sending out or receiving.

3. Remember that most man-woman assaults begin as something other than sex or violence.

4. Treat the assailant as a normal person, not as a deviant. No one likes to be put down.

5. Go along with the man until you see a chance to safely react.

Typical of the 270 "success stories" in Storaska's testimonial file is that of a college girl who told him she let a dance to smoke a cigarette and was approached by a man who grasped her arm and offered her a ride. She unhesitatingly accepted and told the guy she had followed him out of the hall.

"She gave him a little peck on the cheek, caressed his face and then asked to be excused so she could tell her roommate she would be leaving. She went back, closed the door, and screamed her head off. That's the safe reaction."

Bi-State Transit Seeks Grant for 40 New Buses

The Bi-State Development Agency has filed a Capital Grant application in the amount of $1,100,000 with the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the Department of Transportation.

The money, if received, will be used for the purchase of 40 new buses and five service vehicles. The new equipment will replace older vehicles now being used in the three-county Illinois area served by the Bi-State Transit System.

Col. R. E. Smyser Jr., executive director of the Bi-State Development agency, in announcing the application, said that the federal money would amount to two-thirds of the total purchase price of $1,650,000. The matching local money will come from a grant, announced Monday by Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

Smyser added that the application replaces an earlier one that would have provided for the construction of a new consolidated central Illinois garage. He said that the 40 new buses would be equipped with air-conditioning, two-way radios and catalytic mufflers which are designed to reduce air pollution. No timetable for the purchase of the new equipment was given.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 492 prepared for the Christmas holidays at "breakfast with Santa Claus" and made tray favors for a nursing home. Mrs. Skippy Kidman is leader of the troop.

The scouts went to Hope Lutheran Church for a breakfast with Senior Girl Scout Troop 1177 and enjoyed a play, "The Three Little Bears," and a songfest by the senior scouts. A business meeting followed at the leader's home.

The scouts and Mrs. Kidman were accompanied by the Rev. Robert Kettehoff, pastor of St. Peter United Church of Christ to the Hitz nursing home in Alhambra to take Christmas tray favors to the residents.

While there, the junior scouts sang carols and were taken on a tour of the home, which the church helps sponsor. The activity director spoke on activities of the patients, including ceramics and quilting.

On display in the main lobby was a nativity scene made by the residents, who also make stuffed animals and Christmas decorations.

Scouts participating were Debbie Handlon, Janet Nuns, Christy Peach, Robin Saltgaver, Dawn Glass, Tammy Smith, Rhonda Crouch, Carol Ann Kidman, Sharon Werner and Jackie Thomas. Plans were made for the troop Christmas party.

Students Test Yule Menus: 'Try It -- You'll Like It'

The Joy of Christmas lends itself to the elegance of parties—whether candlelight dinner for two, a tea party or a morning coffee.

Students in an experimental food class at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale tested recipes for a variety of Christmas menus for these "special events."

In the class conducted by Mrs. Jennie Harper, associate professor in the food and nutrition department of the School of Home Economics, teams collaborated on the various projects.

Party foods were prepared by Brenda K. Mehrens of Falls, Brenda K. Orman of Fairfield, Linda Durlik of Chicago, Janet Aebischer of Westchester, Grace Tao of Hong Kong, Judy Patterson of Altamont, Margaret Madgey of Glenview, Sally Wilson of Marion and Janet Ismond of Park Forest.

"Candlelight Dinner for Two" featured French onion soup with cheese croutons, roast Cornish game hens with wild rice stuffing, spiced crab apples, glazed sweet potatoes, spinach-bacon salad bowl and Cherries Jubilee.

For other occasions, the students tested various hors d'oeuvres, and coffee cakes.

Recipes included the following:

ROAST CORNISH GAME HENS WITH WILD RICE STUFFING (two servings)

2 frozen 1-pound Rock Cornish hens, thawed

Seasoned salt

Seasoned pepper

1 egg, separated

3 oz. long grain and wild rice
1/2 cup grated fresh orange peel

1 10-oz. jar red currant jelly
1 1/2 tsp. prepared mustard

1 1/2 tsp. port wine
2 tsp. fresh lemon juice

1 8-oz. jar spiced whole crab apples

1 bunch watercress

Four hours before serving, wipe Cornish hens dry with paper towel; tie legs of each together with twine; sprinkle each with 1/2 tsp. seasoned salt and dash of pepper; brush with unseasoned egg white; refrigerate.

Cook rice as label directs for drier rice, adding orange peel. Remove hens from refrigerator; fill cavity of each with prepared rice, reserving remainder. Bake hens on a cookie sheet, uncovered, for 1 hour at 350° F., or until a fork can be inserted easily in the thigh.

Prepare Currant Sauce. In sauce pan, heat currant jelly; gradually stir in mustard, wine and lemon sauce; keep sauce warm over low heat.

When hens are done, arrange on bed of rice on heated platter; garnish with crab apples and watercress sprigs. Serve Currant Sauce in side dish.

SPINACH-BACON SALAD BOWL

3 cloves garlic, quartered
1/2 cup French dressing

4 hard cooked eggs
4 bacon slices, fried crisp and drained

1/2 lb. crisp young spinach
Two hours before serving, add garlic to French dressing. Hard-boiled eggs. Fry bacon. Tear spinach into pieces. Refrigerate all ingredients. At serving time, chop 1/2 eggs, crumble bacon, sprinkle both over spinach. Remove garlic from French dressing; pour over salad, toss well, garnish with slices of remaining eggs.

CHERRIES JUBILEE (4 servings)

1 qt. vanilla ice cream

1 lb. can pitted Bing cherries
3/4 cup currant jelly

1/2 cup brandy

Two hours before serving: With No. 16 scoop, make and freeze 4 ice cream balls. At serving time, drain cherries; in chafing dish, over direct heat, melt currant jelly, stirring constantly; add cherries and heat slowly, stirring, constantly until simmering. Pour brandy into center of fruit; do not stir. Let warm, light carefully with match, and immediately spoon flaming fruit over ice cream balls.

GUGELHUPF (Coffee Ring)

1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
1/2 cup dark rum

2 pkg. or cakes of dry or compressed active yeast

Pinch of sugar
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/4 cup unsalted butter, softened
1/2 cup sugar

1 egg yolk
1 1/2 tsp. grated orange peel
1/2 tsp. vanilla extract

1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour

4 egg whites
1/4 cup blanched whole almonds

Confectioners' sugar

Soak raisins in the rum for 1/2 hour; drain and squeeze dry. Sprinkle yeast and pinch of sugar into the water; let stand for 2 or 3 minutes; stir to dissolve; set in warm draft-free place for 2 or 3 minutes, or until the yeast has begun to bubble and has almost doubled in volume.

Cream butter and 1/4 cup of sugar until light and fluffy; stir the yeast solution beat in the egg yolks one at a time. Add the orange peel, vanilla extract, salt and raisins. Add the flour, 1/2 cup at a time, beat well.

In another mixing bowl, beat the egg whites with a whisk or rotary or electric beater until they begin to foam, then beat in the remainder of sugar; continue to beat until stiff peaks form.

With a rubber spatula, mix about one-fourth of the egg whites into the batter, then reverse the process and fold the batter into the remainder of the egg whites, using an over-and-under cutting motion. Continue to fold until no trace of the white remains, but do not over-fold.

Lightly butter and flour a ring mold (a deep fluted Gugelhupf form is used) placed by any deep 10-inch ring mold.

Do Arrange almonds in a circle in the bottom of the mold; then spoon in batter. Cover with a kitchen towel and set in a warm draft-free place (the unlighted oven is ideal) for 1 1/2 hours or until the batter has risen to the top of the mold.

Preheat oven to 350° F. Place Gugelhupf in the middle of the oven. Bake for about 40 minutes, or until it is a light golden brown. Turn out on a cake rack to cool. Dust lightly with confectioners' sugar.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE-NUT BREAD

2 cups flour
1 cup sugar

1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt

2 tsp. shortening
Grated rind and juice of 1 orange
5 cups water to make 3/4 cup

1 egg, beaten
1 cup raw cranberries, cut in halves

1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Heat oven to 350° F. Grease a loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. Blend dry ingredients. Mix in shortening, orange rind and juice, and egg. Fold in cranberries. Pour into pan. Sprinkle with walnuts. Bake 1 hour. Cool thoroughly before slicing with a thin, sharp knife.

660-Foot-Distant Highway Billboards Slated for 1972

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service
SPRINGFIELD, Federal highway officials are watching what happens to a bill which deals with billboards along Illinois' highways.

The measure has been passed by the General Assembly. It was sponsored in the House by Rep. C. L. McCormick, R-Vicksburg.

Recently federal highway officials told Illinois highway officials that unless a bill was enacted the state could lose nearly $30 million in federal funds.

The legislation seeks to regulate placement of signs and billboards along the highways. Public Works Department Director William F. Collins points out that the legislation was necessary if Illinois was to share in the federal funds.

McCormick was able to line up some solid support in the House where it had been expected that the legislation might run into trouble. With the support behind the bill, it got through the House. This support continued through the Senate.

Under provisions of the legislation, advertising would be banned from the right-of-way of interstate and primary highways for 660 feet. This would be under the control of the Public Works Department, which, after Jan. 1, will become the Department of Transportation.

It also provides that the signs must be limited to information about lodging, food services and automotive services within a 12-mile area.

Bowling Alley Burglary

Seven pin ball machines and a cigarette machine were pried open and emptied of change in a burglary at the Tri-Mor Bowl, it was reported at 8:30 a.m. Friday. The amount taken was undetermined. The pin ball machines are owned by the P. S. Vending Co. There was no sign of forced entry.

Holiday Ceasefire In Vietnam Being Sought by Price

Congressman Melvin Price of this district last week called for a U. S. -initiated ceasefire as part of the holiday season truce in Vietnam.

Introducing a resolution in the House, Rep. Price said: "While violent conflict in Pakistan overshadows the events in Vietnam, most Americans are deeply distressed that a not-a-Christmas approaches with no prospects for the safe return of all American prisoners and soldiers to their families, or for an end to all the killing by all the parties to the war in Indochina."

"I believe," the Illinois lawmaker said, "that the approaching Christmas, New Year, and Tet (Vietnamese Lunar New Year, Feb. 15) holidays offer new opportunities to extend the traditional brief truces into a prolonged ceasefire, and to move the parties toward meaningful negotiations and a political solution to the conflict—the only sure way to achieve the release of all our prisoners and of U. S. troops from Indochina."

"I am introducing a resolution to initiate a standstill ceasefire, extending from Christmas through Tet, setting a date when U. S. and South Vietnamese forces will stop all offensive action, not firing except in self-defense and inviting the other side to join in the ceasefire."

"At the same time," said Price, "we must provide for effective monitoring to aid in surveillance of the ceasefire to determine whether it is broken, and to assure against either side taking military advantage of the truce. A neutral peace-keeping team could be invited to join in the monitoring, with access to surveillance facilities."

"Such initiatives," he said, "could aid in new diplomatic efforts among our allies and those of the other side to break the deadlock in the Paris talks and move the parties toward meaningful negotiations."

"Parliamentarians from nine countries around the world have joined in initiating this appeal to stop all the killing in Indochina. I will continue to urge the President to bring this conflict to an end—the only certain way to assure the safe return of American prisoners and all U. S. forces in Indochina."

Price was the author of the Vietnam Ceasefire amendment to the recent Military Selective Service Act of 1971.

Probation Hearing Set For Two in Burglary

Richard Wilkinson, 28, of the 1390 block of Madison Avenue, and James J. Hill, 1310 Twenty-second St., are to appear for a probation hearing in Edwardsville at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 19, after pleading guilty to burglary in Circuit Court last week.

The two men were charged with burglary at the Marco Polo Lounge, Route 162 and Edwards Drive, on July 22 when a watchman was killed. David Douglas, 19, of Granite City, was sentenced to 15-to-17 years in connection with the shooting.

A juvenile also was taken into custody in the incident. Wilkinson and Hill previously entered innocent pleas but withdrew the pleas and requested probation.

HELPFUL POLICEMEN. Granite City Patrolmen Roy Koberna, at left, and Don Knight, find an enraptured audience at Parkway Grade School where they initiated an "Officer Friendly" program

'Officer Friendly' Program Instructs School Youngsters in Safety Rules

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A squad car drew alongside Logan Grade School Annex and 50 young children — all yelling and waving their arms — as police officers stepped out to greet the youngsters.

No. It wasn't a riot and the shouts greeting the two young patrolmen were complimentary. "There's our friendly officers," the welcoming committee yelled at the top of their collective voice.

Next to Santa Claus, the most popular men in town with small folk these days are six members of the Granite City Police Department — Patrolmen Roy Koberna, Don Knight, Glenn Wright, Fred Hoffman, Jim Lengyel and Ron Selph.

All are young men, five of the six are fathers of small children and each man is dedicated to an educational program initiated last week by the Granite City police department.

"Officer Friendly"

The project is known as "Officer Friendly" and the patrolmen taking part conduct the activity on their own time, strictly during off duty hours. Police Chief Ronald Veizer said.

One of the most popular series to be introduced at the primary grade level, the "Officer Friendly" project involves acquainting kindergarten through third grade youngsters with important safety rules.

At the same time, the officers stress the fact that policemen are the children's friends and helpers at all times.

Similar programs sponsored in many major U. S. cities have proved highly successful in approaching the younger child. Patrolman Roy Koberna explained.

To emphasize the need to observe traffic safety rules, the men present an interesting, educational, and most important, an entertaining program lasting about 30 minutes.

Their first venture into the classroom was at Parkway Grade School, where the response was excellent, a teacher noted.

To Visit All Schools

Already, the group has visited youngsters at Washington, Lake and Logan schools and plans to broaden their coverage by taking their message to each local school building and Parent-Teacher meetings.

The police officers discuss various safety procedures, illustrating their talk with large, colorful charts especially appealing to the eye of a youngster.

Perhaps, the most noteworthy moment in the presentation arrives, at least for the children, when the patrolmen perform tricks of magic — making a bicycle disappear or pulling a rabbit from a hat. The youngsters look to take home which illustrates safety points.

Officer Koberna, a relative newcomer to the Granite City Police Department, primarily was responsible for innovating the "Officer Friendly" program locally.

According to Chief Veizer, the patrolman wrote to various agencies and departments seeking information about the special community relations service before seeking permission to implement the idea into the local department's public service program.

Father of Two

The officer and his wife, Diane, have two children, Scott, four years, and Gregory, three months.

It was learned that the Koberna house has been the scene of several impromptu get-togethers the past several weeks when the six patrolmen practiced their magic tricks or spent time stapling the coloring books to give the members of their youthful audiences.

Patrolman Don Knight and his wife have four children. The Wrights have two and Officers Lengyel and Selph each have one child.

Fred Hoffman is a bachelor, but is a good friend of the other men and enjoys working with the children.

Among those helping to support the program in various ways are the Granite City Kiwanis Club, Granite City High for kindergarten through third grade pupils. Both patrolmen have young children of their own and are conducting the educational series on off-duty hours.

School art department, Madison County Coroner Robert Thomas, Dr. Obert Lay, Mercer Ambulance Service, Granite City Police Department, State Radio and Television and Mrs. Agnes Fryntko, principal of Parkway School.

PTA and other youth-oriented groups wishing to arrange a visit by "Officer Friendly" may contact any of the patrolmen named at the Granite City Police Department.

Medical School Gets First Residency Accreditation

Southern Illinois University's Medical School has received its first residency accreditation — in Family Practice — to begin at St. John's Hospital in Springfield next July, Medical School Dean Richard Moy has announced.

Appropriately for an institution pledged to serve the people's health care needs in central and southern Illinois, this residency program is geared to train specialists for primary family care — the No. 1 need in the medical field, Moy said.

The SIU program is one of 25 such residencies in the country that are affiliated with medical schools, he explained. The concept of family practice as a post-graduate specialization is a recent development in medical education.

Approval for the program comes from the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education, only five months after the Medical School organized its academic department of family practice with the appointment of Dr. William Stewart as chairman. It will become operational within a year after his arrival in Springfield.

"This is a credit not only to Dr. Stewart's leadership but also to the commitment of St. John's Hospital and the vigorous support of the clinical faculty from all specialties who pledged their assistance to the success of this program," Dean Moy said.

Doctors emerging from this program will be uniquely trained for dealing with individual health care needs," he explained. "They may function in group practice but will be the key figures in the allied medical delivery system."

Moy said the Medical School will also have residencies established in pediatrics, obstetrics, surgery, internal medicine and psychiatry by 1973. St. John's Hospital already has an affiliated program in pathology.

Symphony Youth Orchestra To Open Its Season Jan. 7

The St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra will give its first concert of the current season in Powell Symphony Hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 7, under the direction of its music director and conductor, Leonard Slatkin, who is also associate conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

The Youth Orchestra, founded by Slatkin last season under sponsorship of the St. Louis Women's Association, is a hand-picked group of 151 talented young instrumentalists from junior high schools, high schools and colleges in the metropolitan area — one member coming in from as far as Springfield, Mo., to take part in the weekly rehearsals and the three concerts during the season.

More than 500 youngsters turned up for auditions following the original pre-season screenings.

The program Slatkin has chosen for his season opener is designed to display the respective sections of the orchestra as well as the ensemble as a whole.

The works to be performed are Rimsky-Korsakov's Russian Easter Overture, Richard Strauss's Serenade for Winds, William Kraft's Concerto for Four Percussion Soloists and Orchestra, the Fanfare for "La Pen" by Dukas, Vivaldi's Concerto in E minor for Four Violins and Ravel's "Bolero."

Participating as guest artists in the Kraft Concerto will be two members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra itself: Richard Holmes, the orchestra's outstanding timpanist, and Richard O'Donnell, principal percussionist. On this occasion, both will be playing a number of percussion instruments.

Both Holmes and O'Donnell, as well as other members of the St. Louis Symphony, work with the Youth Orchestra in rehearsals from time to time, in addition to their appearances as guest soloists.

Slatkin emphasizes that the Youth Orchestra program gives the participating youngsters an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the repertoire and to rehearse and perform under strictly professional conditions.

A typical rehearsal session may find them playing through a standard repertoire item, such as the "Bolero," or so unfamiliar a work as the First Symphony of Kalinnikov. And their proficiency is of a high order.

Most of the young performers had already determined on pursuing a serious career in music by the time they auditioned for membership in the Youth Orchestra.

Slatkin is not only one of the most gifted conductors of his generation but, at 28, is one of the youngest musicians to hold the position of associate conductor with a major American orchestra.

He brings a uniquely appropriate background of experience to his work with the Youth Orchestra.

Slatkin's own professional conducting debut — with the Youth Orchestra of Greater New York, which organization he served as music director for two seasons. He has since appeared as guest conductor with similar ensembles, such as the famous Chicago Civic Orchestra, the "training orchestra" for the Chicago Symphony, and has worked with the student orchestra at the Aspen Festival in Colorado.

His duties with the St. Louis Symphony include conducting all the special concerts presented by the orchestra for children and young people, both in Powell Symphony Hall and in the schools. He has been among the conductors of the Mississippi River Festival at the local university.

Seats are offered on an unreserved basis for the Youth Orchestra concert, with all tickets priced at $1.50. Tickets are on sale now at the Powell Symphony Hall box office, 718 North Grand Blvd., (telephone 534-1700).
